Providing consulting services to amazing nonprofits

Nancy Hall, a Harvard MBA, began consulting to nonprofit organizations in 1986. She was the Director of Finance for 17 years at the Maryland Association of Nonprofit Organizations, in addition to maintaining a part-time consulting practice. In 2009, she devoted herself fulltime to her consulting practice and teaching. In 2014, she worked on a project to introduce the concept of nonprofits to Kyrgyzstan, a former Soviet republic. The Kyrgyz leaders of human services organizations had the same concerns and questions as their counterparts in Howard County. She has been an expert witness in several cases involving nonprofit fraud.
